Merline Labissière, a designer who has appeared on Lifetime's Project Runway, will talk Thursday night about her nonprofit Provoke Style Fashion Camp Corp. at the Arkansas Arts Center, as part of the Arts Center's Art of Fashion series.

Provoke Style, created in 2014, is a program to provide inner-city Miami youth instruction in fashion principles, techniques and design. Labissière holds an associate of arts degree in architecture from Miami Dade College and a bachelor of fine arts degree in fashion with a minor in architecture from the Savannah College of Art and Design.

There will be a wine reception at 5:30 and the talk will follow at 6 p.m. It's free to members of the Arts Center and $10 to nonmembers.
