Bernie Navarro Finds Success in Bringing People Together

By Jessica Schaefer

Hispanic Executive | The Business Journal of Latin Women's Leadership

Bernie Navarro

Benworth Capital Partners

Hispanic Executive — While Benworth Capital Partners managing director Bernie Navarro believed early in his career that he was destined for a high-profile position in Wall Street, he found his true career calling at Benworth Capital Partners. A small firm based in Miami, Florida, Benworth Capital focuses on providing capital to small businesses throughout the United States. The firm has become a major player in the small business lending industry, where it provides capital to borrowers who may not qualify for traditional financing.

Benworth Capital, founded in 2014 by Navarro and co-founder Brian Balter, focuses on providing capital to small businesses throughout the United States. The firm has become a major player in the small business lending industry, where it provides capital to borrowers who may not qualify for traditional financing.

Navarro believes that Benworth Capital's success is due to its emphasis on working with small business owners to understand their needs and develop strategies to help them succeed. The firm's focus on this approach has allowed it to build a strong relationship with its clients, and to provide them with the capital and guidance they need to achieve their goals.

Benworth Capital's success is also due to its commitment to diversity and inclusion. The firm's leadership team is made up of professionals from a wide range of backgrounds, and its culture is based on a commitment to empowering employees to be their best selves. This commitment to diversity and inclusion has helped the firm to attract and retain top talent, and to create a work environment that is inclusive and supportive of all employees.

Navarro believes that Benworth Capital's success is due to its emphasis on working with small business owners to understand their needs and develop strategies to help them succeed. The firm's focus on this approach has allowed it to build a strong relationship with its clients, and to provide them with the capital and guidance they need to achieve their goals.

Benworth Capital's commitment to diversity and inclusion has also helped the firm to attract and retain top talent, and to create a work environment that is inclusive and supportive of all employees. The firm's leadership team is made up of professionals from a wide range of backgrounds, and its culture is based on a commitment to empowering employees to be their best selves.