Calling him "the only guy who can beat Donald Trump," Carly Fiorina officially endorsed Ted Cruz during a rally at Miami Dade College Wednesday morning, right in Marco Rubio's proverbial backyard.

The Marco Rubio bus circled the area asserting their presence, but the inside was all about Cruz whom Fiorina described as "a fearless constitutional conservative."

"The truth is that Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton are two sides of the same coin," Fiorina said. "They aren't going to reform the system - they are the system."

She went on to encourage party supporters to unite in support of Cruz.

Candidates were out in full force ahead of next week's key primary in Rubio's home state.

"God bless Miami, you all know how to make a Cuban feel welcome," Cruz told the crowd before introducing Fiorina.

According to Monday's Monmouth University poll, Rubio is closing in but remains eight points behind Trump in Florida.

Election officials say that more than 1 million voters have already cast their early votes in Florida, 56 percent from the Republican side and 44 percent of Democrats.

So far, Rubio has only two wins in 20 elections, and is now facing attack ads by the Trump campaign in Florida after having vowed to win at home.

Rubio will have a chance to appeal for support during a rally Wednesday afternoon at Milander Park, located at 4700 Palm Avenue in Hialeah. Doors will open at 4
