

LITTLE HAVANA - FLAGAMI MARCH 9, 2016 4:30 PM

Documentary highlights Cuban music and its diversity of expression

HIGHLIGHTS

Popular Cuban musicians Telmary Díaz, Raúl Paz and Aldo López-Gavilán will be among the featured artists and guests at the premiere of 'The Forbidden Shore' documentary, which will debut Thursday in Little Havana as part of the Miami International Film Festival.

BY ABEL FERNÁNDEZ
staff@InCubaToday.com

A film showcasing the diversity of Cuban music and told through the voices of the artists will screen Thursday night in Little Havana. Already have a digital subscription? Sign In

The Forbidden Shore by Canadian filmmaker Ron Chapman (The Poet of Havana, 2015) features some of Cuba's most well-known artists, including rapper Telmary Diaz, singer-songwriter Raúl Paz and pianist Aldo López-Gavilán, all of whom are expected to attend the event at the Tower Theatre as part of the Miami International Film Festival.

Through interviews and coverage of concerts, The Forbidden Shore documents more than five decades of cultural, artistic and political stories on the island.

With exclusive access to the lives and stories of musicians, Chapman shows a captivating image of the Cuban people and its history of oppression and artistic freedom.

Watch the trailer of the film here:

Miami Herald

WELCOME MEMBER

Thank you for visiting The M... access this article, please sign in with your Press+ Account below.

NOT YET A MEMBER

We hope you continue to enjoy the journalism produced by the Miami Herald. By becoming a member, you'll get unlimited digital access to Miami Herald anytime, anywhere. In addition to our mobile phone access to our mobile phone electronic edition, a digital re... other tablet.

Membership options start as